THE WORLD will not, under any circumstances, hold itself responsible for the return or safe-keeping of any returned manuscripts or pictures, of whatever character or value.

The color line seems fairly able to take care of itself in pugilism.

Mr. PLATT declares that Mr. BLAINE has gone out of the letter-writing business.

It was a well-observed Memorial Day. The country has a gratefully long memory for its dead heroes.

Most of us will be satisfied to welcome the rare days of June in place of the rare days of the passing May.

CLARKSON and FASSETT lead the way to Minneapolis. It is not quite certain, even yet, who will lead the way out.

Another Yale student has gone home sick with typhoid fever. It is evidently time to study the sanitary question at the New Haven University.

Now they are attacking the new postal cards. And this does seem to be a point where the mail of the good knight, WASAMAKER, is not utterly impervious.

This morning's foreign advices deal with rumors of Russo-German overtures. Previous reports have prepared the world to believe that these might easily be convertible into overtures.

Italy is experimenting with a new search-light. Perhaps hoping to see its way out of the chain of Government crises in which it seems to have been entangled for some months past.

The menacing utterances in Euterpe as to what will happen in case a Parliament is constituted at Dublin are, under present circumstances, somewhat suggestive of threatenings directed at a miracle.

lose his membership in the Church. But there is no reason to believe that his lively although ill-timed demonstration will insure his chances of getting to heaven.

With the arrival of June comes the first full realization that Summer is again actually with us. That glorious month begins to-morrow. Quickly will follow July's long hot days. In preparing for our comfort in the Summer spell of warmest weather do not forget what you can do for the good of others.

Having succeeded in being "left alone," the corporation is determined not to let the people alone. It now proposes, in addition to its increased charges, to make every person who has a telephone in a hotel, boarding-house, saloon or flat, pay for the privilege.

The telephone has become more than a convenience in many instances it is a necessity. The Company has been granted the use of the streets and avenues, a valuable franchise, free of cost, and has made millions out of the privilege.

It is significant that the Democratic Anti-Slavery Convention held at Syracuse last night had its headquarters in the same room in which Tammany Hall organized its bolting Convention in 1873, when it defeated Lewis Robinson, the Democratic candidate, at the polls, and elected the Republican Governor, ALONZO B. CONNELL.

As JACKSON knocked STANLEY out in the tenth round, and as CONNETT fought JACKSON to a draw in a little of sixty-one rounds, the result of last night's contest seemed to have raised Corbett stock in the corner Sullivan Corbett fight.

The regular police do their annual round-up to-day. They always make a fine show, but when some message way from being all there is to the force. They are a big credit to themselves and to the town on duty as well as on exhibition.

Another deluge is to come in the year 6,000, according to a scientist. This will sweep away M-A-H-I-S-T-E-R-I-A-N. The whole world will be in the swim.

It is hinted that Mr. HARRISON may call Mr. BLAINE'S hand. To spectators of the game there is a suspicion of a royal flush somewhere, but you never can tell.

is not willing to be their candidate for the Presidency.
Why should there be any deception, trickery or double-dealing about it, as simple matters? Is the best man likely to allow any party to the White House?

One of the most gratifying incidents of Memorial Day was the announcement made in front of the city hall that the first dollar needed to complete the monument had been secured.

LIZZIE LAWSON, the most important witness in the matter of the accusation made by MARY HANNA against Benjamin DOLBY, of the Twelfth Police Precinct, was found yesterday.

Jack the ankle-grabber is the latest New York addition to the family of the Rapier. There is nothing particularly brutal in catching hold of a newspaper's ankle, but when young women properly object to the familiarity, and it is to be hoped that the ankle-grabber may be taught and "spanked" by the ladies.

THE CLEANER.
That the equal rights question has a strong ally in Fred Douglas is shown by the following remarks, made by him at a church meeting: "Some people condemn me because I married a woman the same color as my father, and I did that to open up. I first married a woman the color of my mother."

A new German weather prophet predicts that we shall have another deluge in A. D. 1910. This is a safe prophecy, because no one will be around then to say "I knew you didn't know anything about it."

The Newark Argosy has not sold its "Indiana" picture for $10,000 yet, and it looks as if the paper is in a lull.
